

Partnering for CGM Success:

Helping Your Patients Start - and Stay - on CGM Therapy

You're the expert in guiding patients through the start of CGM therapy. But what happens after they leave your office?

Continuous Glucose Monitors (CGMs) are transforming diabetes care – but access, training, & ongoing support can make or break patient success.

Ensure your patients get the expert support, seamless access, & ongoing education they need to succeed with CGM therapy.

By partnering with a trusted durable medical equipment supplier who specializes in diabetes care, you extend your care beyond the clinic – helping patients start strong, stay compliant, & achieve better health outcomes.

How Diabetes-focused DME Suppliers are Your Ally in Patient Care

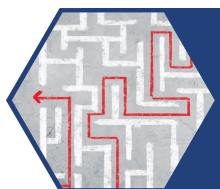

Better Support, Better Outcomes.

DME suppliers reinforce training and provide onboarding support beyond delivery – answering questions, offering real-time support, and helping troubleshoot issues so patients stay consistent with therapy, thus improving adherence & reducing complications & comorbidities.

More Reliable Access.

DME suppliers offer dependable home delivery and stocked CGM inventory, minimizing access gaps and removing barriers for patients in rural areas, with mobility issues, or other challenges.

Coverage Experts & Patient Advocates.

DME suppliers understand coverage rules, navigate prior auths, and push back on denials so that your patients get access to the CGM therapy they need.

Compliance Centered Resupply.

DME suppliers verify usage before reshipping, offering a built-in check that supports long-term adherence. Suppliers' resupply service programs prevent disruptions in care through proactive outreach, distribution coordination, and convenient, timely delivery.

Expertise that Complements Your Care.

DME suppliers specialize in diabetes technology, product updates, and insurance criteria, offering precise, condition-specific support that reinforces your patient care plan.

Trusted by Peers.

73% of physicians specializing in diabetes care prefer DMEs over other fulfillment channels because they deliver better patient support which results in increased adherence to therapy.

Fewer Errors, Smoother Prescribing.

New e-prescribe tools and supplier-specific CGM forms help your office understand critical documentation requirements up front so that everything can be provided at the onset - reducing rework, clarification calls, and delays in your patient getting started on CGM therapy.

Recommend DME suppliers as a trusted channel for CGM therapy.